

LGPRO IGNITING OTHERS

How do teams actually work and why is it that so many don't?

How do successful leaders of teams identify, harness and orchestrate the unseen skills and abilities of the people they supervise?

In addressing the challenges of team leadership in Local Government, how do we cultivate innovation and problem solving skills in others to deliver exceptional service to our communities?"

Series 1: 19th & 20th April (residential) and 31st May (1/2 day)

Series 2: 11th & 12th October (residential) and 14th November (1/2 day)

Building on the tools and skills developed through LGPro Ignite, the 'Igniting Others' program takes the next step in team building, focusing on problem solving and innovation as an opportunity for building high performing, collaborative teams.

The 2.5 day program will comprise an overnight residential with a series of practical workshops. A range of tools, reflection points, expert input and action learning activities are employed in order for participants to explore and challenge their own mindset and methodologies.

Note: This program is open to all local government officers, not just those who have completed the Ignite Program.

PROGRAM FORMAT

2 DAY RESIDENTIAL

DAY 1

- The power of teams
- The secrets of high performing teams and why great minds do not think alike
- Building teams for innovation.
- How to identify, harness and orchestrate diverse talents and egos!
- Thinking tools for teams
- Scaling and focusing innovation for creating better processes and services
- Finding greater purpose and better solutions to problems that just won't go away

DAY 2
